CUMBERLAND COUNTY CIVIC CENTER – PORTLAND, MAINE

The 2010 Time Warner Cable AHL All-Star Classic will pit two teams of American Hockey League All-Stars against each other in a Skills Competition and the annual AHL All-Star Game. The two-day event is televised throughout the United States and Canada.

The first AHL All-Star Game was played in 1942 as a fundraiser for World War II efforts in Canada and the United States.

The modern AHL All-Star Game began in 1995, and a Skills Competition was added in 1996. The 2010 AHL All-Star Classic in Portland will be the 23rd All-Star event in league history.

Coaches to lead All-Star teams include current NHL head coaches Bruce Boudreau, Todd McLellan, John Tortorella, Scott Gordon, John Stevens, John Anderson and former Portland Pirates bench boss Barry Trotz.

The AHL each year honors alumni enshrined in the Hockey Hall of Fame at its All-Star Classic.
